

Russian-Japanese International Medical Seminar

-Corporate Health for the ideal employees health management-

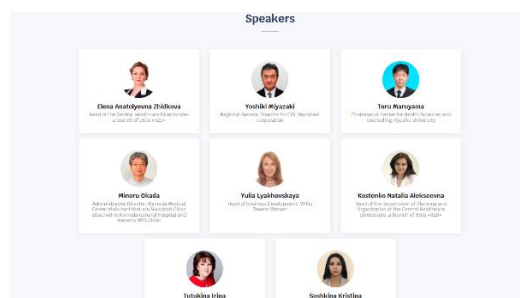

Date: February 25, 2021

Russian-Japanese International Medical Seminar was held by Marubeni Corporation, Kameda General Hospital, Russian Railways and Kyushu University Hospital in cooperation with Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare of Japan for “Cooperation in the field of health promotion and preventive medicine.” Main theme of this seminar was “Corporate Health for the ideal employees health management”, and 6 speakers talked about the importance of health management for employees from different aspects, such as preventive medicine, health check-up system in Japan, and differences of health insurance system between Japan and Russia.

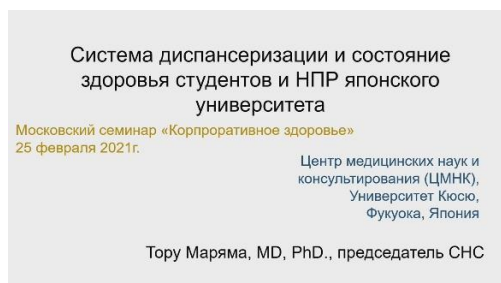

From Kyushu University, Dr. Maruyama, a chairman of Center for Health Scienced and Counseling, presented on “Health Check-up System and Health Status in Students and Staffs of a Japanese University.” He stated the importance of educating university students about health management because it greatly effects on health conditions on their later life.

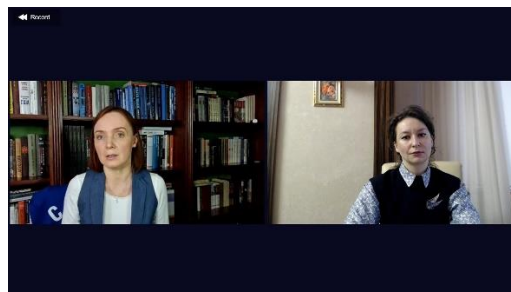

【Seminar website】

【Speakers】

【Dr. Maruyama's presentation】

【Discussion session】