Dear all,

It is with great sorrow to inform you that David Sutherland passed away this morning.

His wife Vanessa just called and told us.

As you know, we all dedicated the second edition of our textbook to him. It is now forever part of his many legacies.

For all of you who worked directly with him and those of you who did not, but who were inspired by him, his passing is a tremendous loss to our field.

He will be remembered fondly by us who are now carrying the torch for him.
