

Activities and initiatives of Kyushu University Hospital for effective and sustainable medical education

Online
(Zoom)

※This event is conducted in English

<https://temdec-med-kyushu-u-ac-jp.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJYpd-iorDktEtVl5np6ViXNGTDCPQw7Prma>

2021.10.19 (Tue)

13:30 ~ 15:00 [UTC +09:00]

Organizer: Tomohiko Moriyama

Associate Professor,
International Medical Department,
Kyushu University Hospital

Presenter

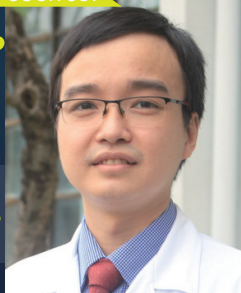

Taiki Moriyama

Associate Professor,
Department of Endoscopic Diagnostics and Therapeutics,
Kyushu University Hospital

[Sustainable International Exchange through Surgical
Clinical Training]

Presenter

Dr. Truong Xuan Long

Hue University of Medicine and Pharmacy, Vietnam

[A brief but meaningful experience in Kyushu University Hospital]

Presenter

Tomohiko Moriyama

Associate Professor,
International Medical Department,
Kyushu University Hospital

[Sustainable education for endoscopists]

Presenter

Dr. Karen Zaguirre

St. Luke's Medical Center, Philippines

[My Kyushu University Hospital Experience:
A Foreign Doctor's Perspective]

Telemedicine education using the Internet is superior in continuity. However, there are many things that can only be learned through onsite training, such as diagnostic tips and therapeutic techniques. The International Medical Department of Kyushu University Hospital has invited many foreign doctors from all over the world and provided them with opportunities to learn advanced medicine directly from Japanese experts. In this seminar, we will give an overview of training programs in surgery and endoscopy at Kyushu University Hospital for foreign doctors, and doctors who have trained at our hospital in the past will present their impressions and feedbacks after returning their countries. In this event, we would like to discuss effective and sustainable medical education combining onsite training and telemedicine.

Scan here for Registration

